

MARSP Voluntary Benefit Defense Fund

MARSP's Voluntary Benefit Defense Fund (VBDF) is used for legal and legislative activities to protect the benefits of Michigan public school retirees. The funds may be used in activities such as educating legislators on the defined benefit system; health care, prescription drug, vision and dental benefits; research reports and other activities necessary for the protection of school retirement benefits.

For example, the VBDF is used to provide funds for Legislative Outreach Days, Legislative Ambassador Training, and the Legislative Voting Record Guide in election years.
