Dear MARSP Member,

I would like to thank you for showing your trust in MARSP by renewing your membership dues year-after-year.

Your membership dues are MARSP's primary source of income. Those dollars are needed for MARSP to continue to protect your pension and healthcare benefits. The more members we have, the louder our voice and influence in Lansing becomes.

If you have not renewed for 2024-25, there is still time. Please add your voice by renewing today.

Last year, I enrolled in auto-renewal for my dues payment. I love it! I no longer need to remember to write and mail my check or look up my log-in and password to pay online!

Why not consider auto-renewal as an option for yourself?

p.s. GO MARSP!

Sincerely,
Sue Jakubiak
MARSP President

- Membership gives MARSP credibility in Lansing: Legislators listen to numbers -- your membership legitimizes MARSP's voice in Lansing.

2023 MARSP State Distinguished Service Award Recipient: Bill Hartl, Saginaw County Chapter

Sue Jakubiak, MARSP President, presents the DSA to Bill Hartl.

On February 26, 2024, MARSP presented the 2023 State Distinguished Service Award (DSA) to Bill Hartl (Saginaw County Chapter). Each year, chapters may nominate one member for consideration for the DSA. MARSP evaluates nominees based on local chapter service, state-level involvement, and community volunteerism.

Bill Hartl retired in 2010 after 43 years as a special education administrator. Compelled by his faith, he spends his retirement much as he did his career -- serving others.

"Retirement didn't reduce the number of hours Bill worked each day. It just changed the direction of those efforts," stated nominator, Katheryn Meinschein.

Joining MARSP was an easy decision for Bill. He'd been working to amplify citizen voices within government affairs long before retirement. He joined the state-level Legislative Committee in 2015. After two terms as Vice President, he assumed the role of Saginaw County Chapter President in 2023.

Outside of MARSP, Bill advocates for fair redistricting through Voters Not Politicians. He also works with organizations supporting low-income and unhoused individuals and families in Saginaw County.

Awards and recognition are far from Bill's mind as he structures his days to mirror his values. Yet as days culminate into years, the significance of his efforts stands out. Through the DSA, we honor and celebrate his unwavering service to MARSP and his community.

Thank you, Bill!

A Biology Teacher-Turned-Treasurer Comments on the MARSP Travel Program

The Bottom Line

By Hess Bates, MARSP Treasurer

On the 24th of December 1968, astronaut William Anders in Apollo 8 gave citizens of the world a special gift. While in lunar orbit, Anders captured a wondrous view of Earth as it rose above the moon. Earth Rising became a symbol of our planet, alone in the vast sea of space and it prompted a new awareness of Earth's significance. But beneath the quiet serenity of that scene lies a hidden reality that all life must face; Mother Nature is a cold and harsh old bat whose rules include the certainty of struggle for all living systems as they encounter the challenges of a changing world.

Living creatures can meet the demands created by changing environments only when species possess enough variation among their members that at least some of those individuals are able to survive and reproduce given the new environmental conditions. That variation arises randomly from both the mutation of genes and from the recombination of those mutant genes that takes place during the reproductive process. Once those random variations are in place, selection pressures decide which variants (differing individuals) will survive and which will not. For the millions of species now living on Earth, natural selection operates a merciless revolving door of birth and death that rewards those who function well in their particular environments and penalizes those who do not; each birth and each death contributing its own tiny bit of rotation to the evolutionary clockwork.

This process has been going on for most of the 4.5 billion years that Earth has existed and has produced many billions of species. But most of those species (more than 99%) having passed into extinction because it is exceedingly difficult to meet the rigors posed by a changing world. The dinosaurs are probably the most conspicuous example; they successfully ruled the planet for hundreds of millions of years before they encountered environmental changes for which no variants capable of survival existed (except for the ancestors of today's birds).

This concept translates directly to human endeavors. Our artificial constructs must survive pressures of analysis and assessment that are analogues to the survival pressures that apply in the biologic world. Systems of government, politics, business, ways of thinking, culture and language (just a few examples) must all contend with constant change. But people are smart and inventive. We do not need to rely on random approaches to creating variation as is the case in the biologic world; we can purposefully invent new ways to solve problems. As challenges arise, successful human institutions utilize multiple strategies to navigate changing conditions and thus have greater likelihood of developing effective solutions. And that brings us to MARSP.

Our organization has existed for more than seven decades because it has remained strongly dedicated to its primary mission while it has also embraced change when challenges and opportunities have presented themselves. MARSP leadership (particularly in the person of Executive Director Royce Humm) has adopted a flexible and far-seeing approach to MARSP's present and future. The sale of the Jolly Road Headquarters and the development of the MARSP Travel Program (MTP) are just two examples. The sale of the building has provided substantial annual cost savings while it also provided investment capital that is paying annual dividends. The MTP has opened a whole new universe to our organization and is providing a completely new source of non-dues revenue, reawakening our desire to do things together following the COVID pandemic, stimulating cultural enrichment to our members, encouraging life-long learning, opening new social and partnership opportunities to our members and giving folks yet another good reason join MARSP. Wow...that's quite a list!

The Bottom Line? The ghosts of countless species and once-successful enterprises make one thing crystal clear; when the opportunity to make effective change presents itself, refusing to do so is not an option. The MARSP Travel Program represents such an opportunity and is an important evolutionary step for our organization. It both broadens the scope of our operations and provides new benefits to MARSP and its members. Next time you encounter information about the MTP and its offerings, please think about it as an important tool, adopted and nurtured because of its effectiveness. You might even want to shake up that piggy bank and consider your own vacation plans. Maybe there is a little travel in your future, to go along with MARSP's travel into its future.

CHAPTER SPOTLIGHT

Wexford-Missaukee Chapter Has Fun and Makes an Impact at Fourth of July Parade

The Wexford-Missaukee Chapter made an impression at the Lake City's Greatest Fourth in the North Parade this year!

Chapter members, their grandchildren, and neighbors came together to decorate an "educators" themed float, which prominently featured the chapter's banner. They also added a "teacher's desk" where a neighbor boy sat and rang a bell as the float made its way down the parade route.

To further engage the community, the chapter asked the local library to donate children's books, which they handed out along with candy. The library enthusiastically agreed, and by the end of the parade, each book (and piece of candy) had found a new home.

Chapter member Larry Collins added a vintage flair to the event by driving his Model A car through the parade with a sign that read, "Retired Educators are Classic - MARSP"

The creative, collaborative, and celebratory display ultimately earned Wexford-Missaukee first place in the "Most Patriotic" category.

Well done, Wexford-Missaukee Chapter and friends!

SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

2024 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

All thanks to your generosity

Each year, the MARSP Foundation awards scholarships to public school staff looking to advance their career in the public school arena. Scholarships may go towards:

- Four-year degree program
- Community college
- Technical/vocational institution in Michigan
- Seminars/workshops from Michigan professional organizations

Thanks to the generosity of MARSP members and supporters, the MARSP Foundation awarded 11 scholarships to public school staff from across Michigan to further their education and professional development.

"We appreciate the hundreds of MARSP members who make these scholarships possible through their donations," says Marie Wilkerson, Foundation Board Chair. "As retirees, we understand the needs that working school personnel have to develop their skills and how financially challenging it can be to obtain additional education."

Scholarship applications are accepted from January through April. Be sure to share this opportunity with your friends and former colleagues by directing them to www.marsp.org/scholarships.

MARSP's Commitment to Future Retirees and the Vital Role of Our Members

Can you think of other organizations that represent retirees while devoting so much attention to those still employed? That is what MARSP does!

One significant initiative is the new fund for classroom teachers: DonorsChoose. Through this program, a classroom teacher can “shop” for classroom needs, then post the request on the DonorsChoose website. MARSP fulfills the monetary amount, DonorsChoose personnel order the items, and the supplies are shipped directly to the classroom teacher. It’s that easy! In addition, the MARSP Foundation offers scholarship money for staff seeking additional training or degrees to enhance their prospects. Each year, 10-15 applicants benefit from this support. MARSP truly cares about “future retirees” even before they retire!

Who is there when the legislature eyes our retirement fund for other uses? MARSP educates and lobbies to protect present retirees, thereby also safeguarding the future benefits of those still employed.

MARSP’s tagline, “Protecting Your Future,” extends to those still in public schools. Introducing MARSP to a potential new member, whether through a conversation or a MARSP publication (like VANGUARD), helps fulfill MARSP’s mission to protect and enhance Michigan’s public school retirement income and healthcare.

MARSP staff and statewide volunteers are always ready to welcome newly retired public school staff. Make a point to reach out to a potential member in 2024!

Governor signs state Budget, Amendment to MPSERS Act Required to Use OPEB Overpayment

Executive Director's Message

By Royce C. Humm,
MARSP Executive Director
staff@marsp.org

The Governor signed the School Aid budget on July 24, 2024, redirecting a $670 million overpayment from MPSERS other post-employment benefits (OPEB or retiree healthcare) towards school operations.

The Administration and policymakers must now amend the MPSERS Act to use the $670 million this budget year.

House Bill 5803 and Senate Bill 911

House Bill 5803 and Senate Bill 911 would allow the money to be spent in the state fiscal year ending on September 30, 2025. Differing versions have passed the House and Senate, but are delayed due to the Legislature's summer adjournment. The next step will be for the Senate to take up one of the bills when they return. With a limited summer schedule and the general election ahead, it may take some time, but is expected to happen by the end of the calendar year.

In their current forms, HB 5803 and SB 911 would:

- Amend the MPSERS Act to free up excess MPSERS healthcare funds (OPEB) for use in FY 2025.
- Eliminate a 3% contribution to MPSERS healthcare by employees hired before September 2012.
- Include language from MARSP that addresses what happens if the funded ratio for MPSERS healthcare falls below 100% in the future.

The bills differ in how they address district payroll costs. House Bill 5803 drops the rate by 5.75% right away and SB 911 phases in the reduction over a few years, starting at 3.5% and getting to 5.75% in FY 2029.

MARSP advocates for MPSERS protection in House Bill 5803 and Senate Bill 911

MARSP has been working throughout the budget process to secure language in either HB 5803 or SB 911 to ensure MPSERS healthcare remains 100% funded and any future debt is immediately paid off by the state.

We will continue conversations with policymakers and key stakeholders to understand the financial implications of the language currently proposed in HB 5803 and SB 911.

KEY CONTEXT:

How the State prioritized MPSERS funding stability

In 2008, the state put MPSERS on a 30-year repayment schedule to bridge the gap between what the pension and healthcare funds hold and what they owe retirees (called unfunded liability or UAAL).

Reforms to the MPSERS Act in 2017 established a funding floor to ensure the state's annual contributions to MPSERS pension and healthcare funds are at least as much as the previous fiscal year when funding is below 100%.

MPSERS healthcare is currently 126.3% funded and is expected to reach 140% next year. The pension fund has a funded ratio of 68% and is on track to have existing debt fully paid off by 2038.

For more information on MPSERS funding and "debt," check out MARSP's article Understanding MPSERS Finance: Debt Is Only Part of the Story.

Not a public school retiree? Membership is for ANYONE who supports MARSP's work to protect and enhance Michigan's public school retirement system. This support extends far beyond current retirees. Research shows that when employees are confident about their retirement income and benefits, they're more likely to stay in their jobs for the long haul.
